The study of film was significantly shaped by German film theorists, among them the Hungarian-born Béla Balázs, Siegfried Kracauer, Rudolf Arnheim, and Lotte Eisner.